

Octaaf Callebaut was born in a family of beer brewers. However, as the only one of the family, he didn't really know what to do with his life. Brewing beer just wasn't his thing. In the end, his father entrusted him with the eighth production line of the family company, adding "just figure out for yourself what you want to do with it". In the back of the factory, Octaaf silently started to experiment with cocoa beans, sugar and milk.

In 1911, the smell of Octaaf's first chocolate creations starts to overtake the beer scent that normally dominates the family company. Driven by curiosity, the factory's workers come to have a look. "What's that brown, syrupy substance?", one of them asks. He's the first one to taste the chocolate straight from the conch. Other colleagues follow his example, and they are all enchanted by the velvety, sweet taste. News of the birth of the delicious chocolate spreads fast. "Say, did you already try that chocolate?"

Encouraged by his wife Juliette, Octaaf goes looking for new tastes, techniques and products. His tastes keep on enchanting everyone. The eighth line becomes world famous and turns into the global chocolate empire it is today. Today, the beer brewery is no more, but Wieze now has the biggest chocolate factory in the world.

As Octaaf was a Belgian taste pioneer, taste is exactly what restaurant Octave is all about. We serve you Belgian cuisine with a contemporary twist, under the loving and vigilant eye of Octaaf and his wife Juliette. They're looking at you from the wall ...
